Canada / Provincial Student Loans and Grants

Government loans come from two sources: the federal government and the provincial or territorial governments. You apply each year you are studying by filling out an application in your home province.

These loan programs are intended to supplement the financial resources of the students and their families and do not usually cover all costs for a school year. Approval for financial assistance is not guaranteed.

Note: these loans must be paid back. The key features of most government student loans are:

- These loans are interest free while you are in school, but interest starts to accrue immediately when you graduate.
- You do not have to start repaying your loans until six months after you complete your studies or drop below a 60% full course load.
- Depending on your situation, you may be eligible for interest relief and/or debt reduction assistance after you have completed your studies.

Who is eligible for Canadian and Provincial government loans?

Students enrolled in at least 60% of a full credit load (Prairie full credit load = 12 credits) per semester and who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada. Quebec Student Loans are not available to Prairie students. Alberta and BC students in the BVC Practical Nursing program must have at least 60% of BVC full time credit load (BVC full credit load = 15 credits)

Important Note: Provincial and Canada Student Loans are not available for a Private Pilot's License. Provincial and Canada Student Loans are not available for any portion of the PCP program.
